Notes of affirmation, encouragement and wisdom for David

David Johnston has been with the parishes for almost a year for his pastoral internship as part of his formation toward priestly ministry in the diocese. As part of the parish community you have had either direct or indirect contact with David. He has shared in the life of the parishes. As his time of internship draws to a close and he will be returning to seminary for two more years of class work and I am asking for your input. If you feel so moved, please e-mail the office (bluewater@dol.ca) or drop a note off in the collection basket, offering your affirmation, encouragement or words of wisdom which can help David in his continuing discernment. This year for David has been filled with many graces and much growth. Your input is important to David. Your comments will be shared with David. Thank you for being a part of the formation process and your continued prayerful support of vocations to the priesthood.
